adf
Auckland

Report Date: 4/15/2011

How to Use guide:

The objective of the Section score report is to present a snapshot or an overview of all 29 sections covered in the assessment.

The report indicates how the organisation has scored in each of the sections compared against the Snapshot score. The organisation can quickly identify at a glance sections where the strengths and opportunities to improve lie.

The top 5 Key Focus sections is an additional supporting report to quickly prioritise sections within the centre for improvement.

Notes:

- A caution is that these focus sections must be investigated for appropriateness in light of the needs of your organisation.
- Also note the score you achieve is a weighted score based on the importance of the question or area in relation to the overall section as well as overall importance to the centre.
- The Snapshot score is a benchmark derived from applications across of the Snapshot process over time and is to be used as guide to compare against the score you have achieved.
